

A Teeter Dies From Pneumonia

PROMISING YOUNG LIFE CUT OFF AT EARLY AGE OF SIXTEEN YEARS

It is a sad duty to chronicle the passing away of Miss Audrey Irma Teeter, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Teeter, of Galt Ridge, who died on Sunday morning last, aged sixteen years. Pneumonia was the immediate cause of death.

Only one short week previously she had been attending school where she was a pupil in Grade X, and was stricken with the prevalent disease of pneumonia. She was immediately taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Clark, with whom she was staying while attending high school and given medical assistance.

In spite of all that medical care and attention, as well as special nursing could do, the patient developed the chronic disease of pneumonia, from which she passed away at nine o'clock on Sunday as stated above.

The late Miss Teeter was one of Wainwright's own girls, she having been born in town just sixteen years ago last January. She was such a girl that always had lots of staunch friends, and although having suffered quite a lot of sickness during her short lifetime, she held high standing in her schooling, her church and Sunday school. She was always highly spoken of by teachers, friends and acquaintances, and was much on the minds of those who knew her in the words of Mason Russell:

"It is in loving, not in being loved, The heart is blessed;
It is in giving, not in seeking gifts, We find our quest;

Whatever be thy longing or thy need That thou dost give;
So shalt thy soul be fed, and thou, indeed Shalt truly live, though dead."

The funeral which was held at the United church on Monday afternoon truly marked the respect and esteem in which this young lady and her parents are held in the community.

The church was filled to overflowing, and the pastor, Rev. N. W. Whitmore, spoke reverently and feelingly of this young life cut off in the prime of youth. He exhorted his congregation to go live in this life that they might be at all times ready to answer the call of Him, whose resurrection from the dead was in promise of communion at the very time that little Audrey was called to her heavenly home. During the service the hymns "Rock of Ages" and "Abide with me" were sung.

AGRICULTURAL SCHOOLS CLOSE SUCCESSFULLY

After one of the most successful seasons since their inception the four provincial schools of agriculture closed for the 1928-29 term during the past week. Premier Brownlee and Hon. R. G. Reid were the principal speakers at the closing exercises at the Vermilion School. Hon. G. H. Hoadley spoke at the Old School and Mr. H. A. Craig represented the government at the closing exercises at Claresholm and Raymond. The number of young men and women students in attendance at the schools during the past term has been as follows: Old 228; Vermilion 175; Claresholm 78; and Raymond 64.

Miss Kathleen Reynolds of Edmonton was here for Easter on a visit to her parental home.

Inspector W. Edwards is attending the provincial school teachers' convention in the city this week.

We are sorry to know that while returning to his home from town on Saturday night last Mr. Hiram Dowling overturned his car through striking a rut in the road just at the hill by the Hardan farm north of town. The car top and windows were all smashed, although Mr. Dowling was not hurt. Another man riding with him however was so badly cut about the head as to need medical attention.

Mr. A. Black is now back home from the Peace River district.

Mr. Ed Dahl, of St. Michaels, is visiting his daughter Mrs. Harry Ball.

AGRICULTURAL SHORT COURSES POPULAR

A program of very successful agricultural short courses held at various points in the province has just been concluded by the Department of Agriculture. Four-day courses were held at Lethbridge, Hardisty, Bedford, and Mundare, a three-day course at Mankota, two-days at Invermay and one-day meetings at High River and Vauxhall. At a number of these points as many as 150 farmers were in attendance. Instruction was given in field husbandry, weed control, live stock, poultry raising and farm power. This has been the most extensive short course program carried out by the Department of Agriculture for a number of years and the results are reported to be highly gratifying.

McLeod's parties handed the arrangements, and the pallbearers were all young boys schoolmates of the deceased in the persons of Arthur Babb, John Myers, Paul Brown, Ed. Plaxton, Elton McCallum and Kirk Snyder. There are left to mourn the loss of this promising young life her parents Mr. and Mrs. P. Teeter, and Sister Mary and Brothers Harold, Donald and Gerald, to all of whom the sympathies of the whole community are extended in this bereavement.

Floral tributes placed on the coffin and at the graveside in Wainwright cemetery were:

WAINWRIGHT VETS. STAGE BIG DANCE

MOST ENJOYABLE TIME GIVEN ON DANCE FLOOR HERE THIS WINTER

For the purpose of augmenting the funds of the local branch of the Canadian Legion B.E.S.L. the "Boys" of the former front trench and "Eighty" days held their annual Vinny Day dance in the theatre on Monday last, and the affair was truly one of the most enjoyable of its kind held this season. To the melodious strains of the F. Stott orchestra a large crowd of merry makers danced to their hearts content on a nicely prepared floor and the fun was kept up until the wee hours of the morning.

Courses of "Old Farmers" days were re-visited (for the night at least) and reminiscences were exchanged between "buddies" which vivified recall of days of tempestuous times as well as the odd time of jollity and mirth in those war-wrecked years of the past.

The efficient committee for the evening had worked night and main to give all their patrons a real good time and that they succeeded in so doing was well evinced by the enormous packed up such an affair as the dance proved.

The supper at midnight was of course par excellence, and the miniature "Red Cross" nurses' booth with their offers of refreshments during the proceedings added to the effective ness of the setting. This end of course being in the interests of the Junior Red Cross Society.

The "Vinny Day" dance was a true success from every angle and its an equal successor will be looked forward to with delight also.

Mr. Fred Lepper has this week purchased a dandy Chev. landau and Mr. A. Hughes purchased a coupe of the same make.

PATIENTS ARE MOVED

PONOKA INSTITUTION

60 TAKEN TO THE OLIVER INSTITUTION FORTY-TO NEW QUARTERS

EDMONTON—Moving day at the Oliver Mental Institution has been satisfactorily observed and the newly completed building between the power house and the main buildings is now in use. It is being utilized as office and store building and as a residence for about 20 members of the staff. Accommodation for all these services was formerly provided in the main buildings and the space thus released in the latter has been made available for hospital purposes.

Sixty patients have been transferred from Ponoka and placed in the rooms at Oliver vacated by the removal of the stores, offices and staff quarters. These are all chronic cases and will be better provided for in their new home than was possible under the congested conditions of Ponoka.

Hon. George Hoadley minister of health says that further relief has been given at the big institution at Ponoka by the transfer of forty patients to the new building constructed last year near the farm barns. This is a dormitory building intended for the accommodation of patients who are doing outside work on the farm and with them have gone ten staff workers who will also have residence quarters in the new dormitory.

*** Mike and Pat went into business together. Mike had the money and Pat had the experience. At the end of a year they dissolved. Then Pat had the money and Mike the experience. Experience is costly that is why it is safer to deal with a reliable firm that know their business. Bring your lumber and paint problems to the Atlas Lumber Co. They will be handled to your profit and satisfaction. Joe Welch, Mgr.

Splendid results were achieved at the sale of cooking and flowering plants by the ladies of the Anglican church on Saturday last and their efforts must have nicely profited thereby.

WEDDING BELLS

HINES—PETERSON

A quiet little wedding took place at the United church manse on Wednesday last, when the pastor, Rev. N. Whitmore, united in the bonds of holy matrimony Miss Edith Peterson and Mr. Herbert Hines. Both the contracting parties are from Highmenden, and after a short honeymoon will take up residence on the groom's farm there.

PRAIRIE TOURISTS TO HAVE SEA CRUISE

WINNIPEG—"Low land and high land and out along the sea"—This line of verse applies perfectly to the summer tour which will leave the Canadian National Railway station at Winnipeg on July 1. Beginning here, the tour which will be personally conducted will cross the prairies, through Saskatchewan and Edmonton, will tarry in Jasper National Park, will strike north through Prince George to Prince Rupert, and will then drop south to Victoria on the Pacific Ocean to Vancouver.

Many reservations have already been made to any nothing of inquiry and there is evidence enough that this year's tour will be as popular as last summer's. On the second day out, the travelers will spend the afternoon at Watrous, and will have an opportunity of bathing in Little Manitou Lake, a mineral lake unlike any in the prairies. They will see Saskatoon and Edmonton and will drive through Wainwright, Buffalo Park. After a day at Jasper, seeing the Lodge in the mountains, golfing and motoring or riding the mountain ponies, they will see the supreme Mount Robson, Bulkley Gate and Cay on one of Canada's wonders—and they will walk through the fascinating Indian village of Kiwassa, which includes with them poles. The trip from the northern port of Prince Rupert to Vancouver, along the placid sheltered sea, will be a pleasure in itself, climaxed by a tour of Vancouver, and then the travelers will be free to go as they please.

Mr. K. Bab, who was recently employed at the Armstrong store is now engaged with Mr. E. E. Torg.

Mr. W. Hore, of Hope Valley, had the misfortune to suffer a fire loss on Wednesday last which destroyed his house and all its contents. It was started by fire running through the dead grass from a fire kindled to destroy a dead horse. It was a total loss for Mr. Hore as he had no insurance.

LOCAL GIRL WILL COMPETE IN ORATORY

NETTIE PICKARD, WAINWRIGHT, WILL CONTEST ORATORICAL HONORS IN CITY

The semi-final contest of the provincial oratorical contest will be held in Edmonton on Thursday, April 4th in the McDougall United church and a large number of aspirants will take part in the worthy battle.

Miss Nettie Pickard, pupil of Wainwright high school, will endeavor to bring the Northern Alberta honors to Wainwright. During the past few weeks Miss Pickard has been busy in remodeling and polishing up her oration for this occasion, and is now preparing for the contest.

All of the Northern Alberta contestants will be the guests of The Edmonton Journal while in the city, arrangements having been made for rooms at the Royal George Hotel. A theatre party is also planned for these visitors to Edmonton.

Miss Pickard leaves tonight (Wednesday) with her chaperone Mrs. W. Huntingford, and here's wishing her full success in her efforts. The Journal has arranged to broadcast the speech over the radio, and so doubt many will "listen-in" on Thursday evening.

The provincial final will be held in Edmonton on the evening of Friday, April 12th, and it is hoped that Miss Nettie will be upholding the honors of the North at that gathering.

Miss Muriel Wittmann who is attending the Edmonton Normal school spent the Easter holiday at the home of her parents here.

The Allan Cup, emblematic of amateur hockey championship was won on Saturday by Port Arthur with a score of 3-0.

Fabyan Petroleum Deepening No 1 Well

NO. 2 WELL IS BEING CAPPED AND PIPED TO SUPPLY NEEDED GAS

The crew of the Fabyan Petroleum under the guidance of Roy E. Williams, managing director, have been busy indeed during the past week. On Thursday last their No. 2 well (the old Imperial No. 1) was opened for the first time in a long while and the result was truly astonishing.

This well when released bore forth with a volcanic roar which could be heard for miles and emitted a stream of gas and oil roughly estimated at over 100 million feet per day. The oil was not very long in covering buildings and land for a space of half-a-mile, and the well has now been capped and piped for the supply of the gas to the workings at the No. 1 well.

At that site, the derrick has been strengthened for the purpose of being used in a deep test. It was brought in with a big flow of gas last fall, and it is the intention now to immediately proceed with the big rotary to the oil bearing sands which it is confidently expected will be reached before the big gas pressure there.

Within the near future it is intended that his company will proceed with the commencement of their No. 3 well in the same locality.

Williams Petroleum, another new company, is now getting busy for the purpose of cleaning out and bringing into production the old B.P. Nos. 2 and 4 wells, and if necessary GOVERNOR GENERAL TO VISIT PROVINCE

His Excellency Lord Willington, Governor General of Canada accompanied by Lady Willington will make a brief visit in Edmonton and Calgary during the coming week on his way to and from the International Convention of Education which he will attend at Victoria B.C.

MEDAL PRESENTED TO YOUNG HEROINE

Chief Constable, who is acting to enter the Wainwright and its surrounding districts campaign are their summer drillings campaign are the Asseville Oil Corp., Ltd., and the Weyman Oil Ltd. Both are to drill both shallow and deep wells on their acreage here according to published information. The more the merrier! Let Them All Come! Here's where the real crude oil lies!

Anglo-Alta Annual Meeting

"IN OLD KENTUCKY" AT ELITE THEATRE

STIRRING RACE HORSE SCENES AND HEART THROBS CREATE FILM

Romance spreads its glamour over the screen in this production more than one sense for it marks the starting advent of James Murray who only a few short years ago was a showman at the very theatre where this was viewed.

Romance a measurable share of it, also plays its part in the story telling of the reclamation of the action of a famous family who had gone to the dogs following his devastating experiences in the war. Murray plays the part of this boy and does it with a good deal of personal appeal and proficiency. To boot, there are two corking horse race scenes one in war-torn France where giant shells and spitting shrapnel come out second best in their efforts to stop the rider; the other back home on a Kentucky track where "Queen Bees" the animal hero in the plot recoups the family fortunes in a triumphal come-back.

Helene Costello shows in a few spots and her love interest has a lasting effect Edward Martindale gives his usual upstanding performance lending an inviting dignity to his scenes.

In "Old Kentucky" is Good Entertainment and it comes to the theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

It surely seems about time something was done, or some big kick registered as to the static interference which radio owners in town are subjected to from the electrical impulses from the repeater station "The listeners" have a big bunch of money tied up in their investment, and sure it should occasion no big outlay on the part of the C.N.R. to alleviate this trouble.

We learn that Miss I. Crowe who recently left Vancouver was injured in a toboggan accident there last week.

Some 6,000 homesteads or approximately 1,000,000 acres in the Grande Prairie district and in the Peace River block in British Columbia will be thrown open for entry in the near future according to word received at Grande Prairie recently from the Department of the Interior, Ottawa. This area includes land formerly held as forestry preserves lying between the sixth meridian and the B.C. boundary line and bounded on the north by the south line of Township 81 and on the south by the Warpti River. An additional area will also be surveyed and thrown open to homesteading. It is expected that entry may be made for some of these lands by about April 15th.

THE CRIME CODE

"Blind young gentleman! I exclaimed surprised, 'who is he?'"

"I don't know his name but he continually calls to know when you will be back. He says he knows you."

"What kind of a man is he?"

"Oh he's a young gentleman who wears black glasses. But poor fellow he's stone blind. He finds his way up all right but I always have to lead him down the stairs and out into the street till he finds the curb and taps along it with his stick."

"I wonder who he is," I remarked aloud to myself.

"I don't know sir, I thought you knew him. He gave me that impression. Bruce implied will you be at home to him the next day. I called and 'found' myself at my old bureau, which I well remembered—for indeed all my belongings now became so familiar to me as though I had never been absent or lost an hour of my life. I turned my attention to the accumulation of letters. Many of them were 'trade men's bills'.

One was a rather heavy account for wine supplied a year before and as I seldom drink wine it surprised me. Possibly my friends had drunk the three dozen of champagne I certainly had not. With it was an account of expensive cigars and as I had never smoked anything but cigarettes in my life, I knew that I had not been the consumer of such luxuries.

"Bruce! I called to my man. How long have you been with me now?"

"Nine months next Thursday sir. By the way sir I hear that Bolland hasn't got anything to do since you discharged him for dishonesty."

"Dishonesty! So I had found out Bolland as a thief and surely here was good testimony that he had ordered things on my account and had probably disposed of them in secret."

"If a man is dishonest he must be punished. I said abruptly Bruce then asked whether I intended to dine at home. I answered negatively and he returned to his post."

The first private letter I opened was in a handwriting now familiar to me and signed 'Your ever affectionate wife, Ilona'.

Ilona my wife. The woman on whom I had never set eyes.

Dated from Louisiana a fortnight before it had been addressed to 'Lord Hipwell Esq. King's Foreign Service Messenger care of His Britannic Majesty's Embassy Madrid and then it had been sent back to Sackville Street.

"My Adored Husband wrote the mysterious Ilona. Do I beg of you to take the greatest care of yourself. Every hour I fear for your safety. You know their secret and there is a desperate plot against you. I know. Always go armed and never relax vigilance when you travel. Beware of a tramp and if you must go alone be careful to avoid him. Come back to me at the earliest moment you can. I await you darling. Do not delay. Every hour that passes increases my anxiety regarding your dear self."

I read the strange warning. 'Be aware of a tramp and if you must go alone be careful to avoid him.' Was he the blind stranger who so persistently called? And the tramp? Was my strange mission at the request of the Little Countess the trap of which my unknown wife warned me?

I pursed my lips and pondered deeply.

An instant later the telephone upon my table rang involuntarily I took up the receiver and answered.

"Hulloa Lionel! cried Joan whose merry voice I recognized instantly. I got your excuse for not writing and I forgive you. So you're back at last. You were due from Rome two days ago. Are you seeing me tonight or are you too tired?"

"Tired! I am never too tired to see you dearest! I cried in as gallant a manner as my poor perturbed brain would allow. 'Where shall we meet?'"

"Mother and father are going to the Lord Chancellor's reception at ten o'clock. Come here at half past eight."

"Very well! I replied 'I'll dine at the club and come on after ten o'clock. Did you have a good journey?' she asked. 'I hope you won't be in one of your moods you know. The last time you came to see me you were horrible. But I know dear you won't be tonight will you—for my sake?'"

"I was really unconscious of being horrible! I laughed to do forgive me. I'll try and behave better tonight."

"Right! And don't forget your promise—oh? laughed the girl. I so dearly loved. Then she rang off."

Another mystery? What quarrel had ensued between us? Of what bad behavior had I been unconsciously guilty—and when?

After two years I was to see Joan again! And yet I was already married to a woman I had never consciously seen.

Imagine my feelings as I sat that evening eating my dinner alone in the St. James Club town by a thousand and apprehensions of having betrayed my best friends by making undesirable acquaintances and further more by contracting a hazardous and irreparable marriage.

What was I to say to Joan?

A little soup and I could eat nothing more. It was half past eight and in order to carry out my promise to the Countess I went into the hall and rang up Mr. Roddy Owen at Harrington Court.

A man who spoke with a foreign accent and who was evidently a servant answered and asked who I was.

My reply was that I desired to speak with Mr. Owen himself.

In a few moments a man's gruff voice said 'Owen speaking. What do you want?'

"I want to see you this evening I replied. 'You do not know me but I am bearer of a verbal message to you—from a friend of yours in Rome.'"

Rome? he echoed. 'Oh yes thanks I'll be delighted to meet you—what name?'"

"Hipwell! I replied. 'May I call in half an hour?'"

"Certainly! he replied. 'I'll wait for you Mr. Hipwell. Thanks for taking the trouble to find me. About nine o'clock Good-bye.'"

And I hung up the receiver.

With memory of my unknown wife's warning I had put my Browning pistol into my pocket and resolved always to keep it there. Yet surely there could be no plot in my rather quiet city promise to help a young girl in distress.

I felt my waistcoat pocket. My pass port, the beautiful little pendant of carved and jeweled aquamarine which I took my name and cigarette and just after nine a taxi set me down before Harrington Court. Great block of flats in Park Lane.

The elevator took me to the fourth floor. When the elevator man pressed the bell at one of the doors an elderly servant bowed me in. Next moment a tall rather fair haired man of about thirty in dinner jacket advanced to meet me with a well limbed young man of athletic build, and somewhat hatted faced without much color but with eyes like emeralds.

"Mr. Hipwell! I presume," he said. "Come a long in! And he conducted me to a fine and beautifully furnished sitting room with soft lounge chairs and several precious works of art. You have come from Rome," he said offering me a cigarette from a large silver box. "And you are good enough to call on me. At the outset I thank you very sincerely. He spoke with great refinement his speech being reminiscent of Oxford where I myself had been."

"I am carrying out a promise made to a lady who is our mutual friend," I explained.

I looked around the handsome apartment but could see no evidence of the plot of which I had been so mysteriously forewarned.

"From Angela's supply," he said in a low intense voice his manner altering instantly. You have seen her eh?"

"I have! I replied and taking out the little pendant of clear blue stone I handed it him. 'She told me to give you this!'"

He took it in his trembling fingers and gazed intently at it. So strange was the look in his eyes that it almost seemed as though the sight of the innocent looking little pendant with its two figure lovelies entwined horrified or even terrified him!

At that moment something happened in my confused brain. What it was I know not. A great weight seemed lifted from it. In a flash an astounding truth dawned on me and my lost consciousness became suddenly restored.

Angela's face had been familiar to me from the first moment I had found myself seated at her side in Rome. Now in a second I realized that the girl I knew as Angela Ugostini, 'the Little Countess' was the same auburn haired girl who had been so eager to put out my eyes with a pin on that fateful night in Camberwell—Lisely flattened!

The discovery held me dumb. I had actually in my ignorance been attracted by my worst enemy, Lisely Hatton the criminal who worked as a City typist. She had put me to the test of Rome. And finding that I had not recognized her she had sent me on that strange mission with the piece of carved blue aquamarine.

I tried to recall some wondering whether the man I was visiting knew the truth concerning me.

"I have a message to you from the Countessina," I said. "She tells you that she cannot write. The message is that it is all impossible and that you must forget."

"What was the nature of the rumour I wondered?"

The face of the man addressed standing in the centre of the room with the little piece of blue shining stone in his hand, went pale as death.

"Impossible! he echoed breathlessly. 'What—what in heaven's name does she mean? Why has she not written? Forget! How—how can I ever forget?'"

That is the message. Of its meaning I am in ignorance. I declared. 'The lady wishes to impress on you the serious peril in which she will be placed if you write to her again. You must not write.'

"Not write! he gasped despairing. 'Then she had ended it all ENDED IT!'"

Not of her own free will I told him. She told me so. Of course I know nothing whatever of the circumstances but she impressed on me that it is necessary in both your interests to break off all communication with you."

"And Lisely desires it not," he asked in a low strained voice his lips trembling.

Possibilities of a system of unidirectional radio beacons for guiding aircraft are being studied by the bureau of standards. Using the development of a standard of a directive beacon it appeared that the usefulness of the beacon could be increased by making the radiated field unidirectional. As the operation of a considerable number of beacons was contemplated all on the same frequency of 200 kilocycles (1034 meters) a large amount of the interference between them might be prevented in this way. In addition more signal intensity might be obtained in a desired direction with a given

HOW TO SIGNAL AIRCRAFT

The Western Canada Airways announce that aircraft may be summoned at need by radio or telegraph messages addressed to: Western Canada Airways at Winnipeg or Prince Albert.

Persons on the trail or in camp who desire to call an aircraft to land should lay out three smokes (smoke) fires, preferably across the wind. These should be lit while the aircraft is still three or four miles distant as the pilot has a better view ahead than directly underneath.

In addition when there is snow or ice, four evergreen saplings may be laid out in the form of a cross, with the tops upwards. Three should be well away from any trees or buildings so that they will be clearly visible at a distance from any angle.

Should the aircraft be proceeding northward fully laden the pilot may not desire to land until he has lighted his aircraft and he will then show that he has seen the signals displayed by cutting off his engine for a few seconds and will afterwards land to ascertain the cause of the signals on his first journey southward.

TUBERCULOSIS

It is an accepted fact that bovine tuberculosis is transmitted to human beings during the years of childhood

This transmission usually occurs through the use of milk coming from tubercular cattle. To what extent this is a practical danger depends upon the amount of tuberculous that exists among cattle, because upon that figure would depend the chances of exposure of children to infection.

In a recent number of the Canadian Public Health Journal, there appeared an article on "The Prevalence and Extent of Bovine Tuberculosis in Canada." This article presented a summary of the data collected through certain measures which revealed the presence or absence of tuberculosis in some six million cattle, during a number of years, from various sources through out the Dominion. The conclusion reads: "It would, therefore, appear to be justified to estimate that bovine tuberculosis infection in Canada, at the present time does not exceed five per cent." The actual percentage based on the six million cattle was approximately four per cent.

It is evident that is approximately every four out of every hundred out of the bovine tuberculosis there is a very real danger in the transmission of bovine tuberculosis to children in this country. It is not a theoretical danger but a practical one that continues day by day.

There is no doubt but that children require milk but no one would suggest taking the risk of using milk that might contain the germs of tuberculosis. Fortunately we have a simple and practical method of meeting the difficulty. Pasteurization of milk destroys all disease-producing germs, including the tuberculosis germ. We may use pasteurized milk and feed it to children with full confidence that the danger of bovine tuberculosis has been overcome.

Through pasteurization, we have it in our power to prevent immediately the occurrence of even one more case of bovine tuberculosis which attacks little children destroying some and crippling others. There is no excuse for failure to use such a powerful means for protection from disease.

Questions concerning Health addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered by letter. Questions as to diagnosis and treatment will not be answered.

HOOVER SIGNS IMMIGRATION LAW IN U.S.

WASHINGTON—The new immigration law of the United States will become effective on July 1st next. President Hoover announced Friday "unless action is taken by congress in the meantime" in proclaiming the new basis for European and Oriental immigration, Mr Hoover stated "that the attorney general has advised me that in failure of congress to suspend action it is now mandatory upon me under the immigration act to issue the proclamation establishing national origins as the basis of immigration quotas."

The proclamation puts into effect the new basis which will double the British quota and cut in half the Irish Free States the German and the Scandinavian.

REYNOLDS

WASTE IN ADVERTISING

This is an age of advertising. Business could not get along without it.
Yet many merchants waste a large share of the money they think they are spending for advertising and wonder why they do not get better results.

Women do most of the buying for home. Now, did you ever see a woman go looking over the billboards and similar so called advertising, in order to make up their mind what or where to buy? Does she get her shopping information from a theatre program or a telephone directory? Not on your life.

Outside of the store itself, the best and almost the only way to attract a prospective customer's attention to what you have to sell is through the newspaper that goes into the home every week. The store that advertises adequately and persistently in its local paper has no need to waste money on the other inferior mediums mentioned.

TRUE CULTURAL INFLUENCE

The School Musical Festival is to be held in Wainwright on May 23rd.
This will be the inaugural festival of its kind for the district known as the Wainwright Inspectorate. It is modelled somewhat after the greatest musical festival the world knows—The Welsh National Eisteddfod—but is different to that affair in that only school children will be contestants.

Its real object is to interest youth in things cultural; in music, elocution and oratory. The competitive nature of its programme incites the children to excel in the finer pursuits of their natures, and as a consequence, the standards of culture are raised in our midst.

The contests in this festival being of a somewhat elementary nature it is hoped by the promoters that participation therein by the children will be an encouragement to youthful artists to compete later in larger provincial competition such as Alberta Musical Festival.

Both solo and chorus singing are included in the festival, and oratorical and dramatic effort also receives recognition on the programme prepared.
For all of these several classes valuable trophies and medals are to be awarded, and it is to be sincerely hoped that the teachers and parents of this important will see to it that every possible entrant will be present to contest the honors.

Here are three

McLAUGHLIN-BUICK'S famous any car in the world, coupled with the famous McLaughlin-Buick torque tube

McLaughlin-Buick's Lovejoy hydrau-

And McLaughlin-Buick's deep, soft

The Road To Better Health

By Dr. ARTHUR L. FORSTER

When the conductor of this column returned home from a call on a recent evening, his better nine-tenth read a health article, she had written, with the words "This is a warning to you" written in red ink. First, it was the attitude of the day mind toward subject of health. Secondly, it shows that constant association with a great man is bound to leave its mark. (The ladies will please smile dispassionately I thank you.)

Seriously this has given me an idea to write. The physician has certain opinions regarding health and disease, that are undoubtedly interesting and instructive. He also entertains some ideas that are more or less erroneous. In order to get these views out into the open, they must be published. Which is exactly what I propose to do. Accordingly, once each month I will publish the best article on an assigned topic which will always be announced two months in advance of the date of publication. All manuscripts must be typewritten double-spaced on one side of white paper only. Size to be 6 1/2 by 11 inches in size. Not over two inches.

I cannot help but believe this will add materially to the value of this column. Whenever it is found that a reader has ideas on any topic that are incorrect I will reprint same without his name and make appropriate comments.

The topic for the first article by readers of the Road to Better Health will be "HOW TO LIVE TO BE A HUNDRED YEARS OLD."

Now for the article referred to above:

Health Sense

Until the people throughout this country realize the value of less confinement and less sheltering and so called protecting the bodies nature gave us, they will be troubled more or less with life of various kinds.

The simplest forms of exercise which are at our disposal constantly are unused. Nature's great contribution to health and hygiene—water, air and sunshine are not appreciated to their fullest extent because they are always at our disposal and thus either contempt or carelessness of the accessible—are not availed.

Health articles written by Doctors argue for less of the stimulants, more of nature and plenty of common sense.

In care of nature's endowment to us, the foodstuffs they do in communities. If the individuals cared for their daily health routine as carefully as they should.

A good relaxing 8 hours sleep brings exercise on arising followed by tepid then cold shower or bath and a balanced breakfast. If possible a brisk walk to train or direct to place of business. The day then begins with work in the top position. Many people are unable to stand the shock of cold water but the average normal person can gradually temper the water until a degree of chill will be stimulating.

Try at any time, when that opprobrious feeling comes over you—take a brisk walk in sunshine or fresh air and when you return with that exhilarated feeling—renewed effort. Is it worth it? Try it.

Sunshine, water, fresh air and exercise will do more for one's well-being than all the drugs on the market. What better tonic and stimulant can we find than nature's own remedy and protection against state of neglect.

There are various kinds of baths—sun, salt, cold, hot steam etc. Each and every one has its own particular merit. There are various forms of exercise for development and correction of various muscular defects. I venture to say that if persisted faithfully in use of above treatment, people in general would be healthier, happier and richer—I say richer as ill health can impoverish the most successful person financially and physically.

"BETTY BARCLAY'S" RECIPES IN NEW BOOK FORM?

For some time we have been using recipes and food stories by the well known writer "Betty Barclay" whose material appears in several hundred publications including a large number of monthly magazines.

Many women have been clipping the recipes as they appeared and keeping them on file. The Recipe Service Company now handling the exclusive output of this writer desires to know whether or not a recipe booklet containing approximately two hundred choice "Betty Barclay" recipes would meet with approval. These recipes would include many that have been used in this publication including some of the prize winning recipes that have appeared from month to month. In addition, this booklet would contain several pages of food facts, including data on child feeding, the reducing diet, the fattening diet, alkaline foods and the balancing of meals.

The Recipe Service Company is willing to have such a booklet printed in a cheap paper covered edition or if preferred in a board-covered edition with each title page signed personally by "Betty Barclay" and with each booklet numbered and dedicated to the subscriber—in a form in other words that would make it well worth preserving for a lifetime. Such a booklet would of course cost considerable but an attempt would be made to make one dollar the maximum price. It would serve as an excellent Christmas gift, and if there is a demand for such a booklet it would be made ready in time for this festive season.

Those of you who follow "Betty Barclay" food stories and recipes are asked to write the Recipe Service Company 1861 East Toga Street, Philadelphia, Penna., advising whether or not such a booklet would be of interest to you—and whether you would prefer the cheaper edition or the more expensive. Perhaps neither will be possible. The readers of a large number of publications are being asked for this week for their honest views on the matter. Their letters will not be regarded as subscriptions but merely serve to show whether or not such a booklet should be printed. Try one of the "Betty Barclay" recipes appearing in this issue then if you would care for a collection of at least 200 in booklet form drop a postal or a letter to the above address.

A wonderful new metal, one-third lighter than aluminum and with most of the valuable properties of steel will soon be placed on the market. Assuming that its cost is not prohibitive its use will greatly reduce the weight of airplane engines and providing its price eventually becomes low enough it may be also be largely employed in automobiles with vast reduction in weight. The name of this new metal is beryllium, a chemical element like iron, copper aluminum and lead.

Meandering with Marjorie

Closets and dresser drawers seem during the winter months to become more cluttered than any other parts of the house. And they are the most difficult places to clean because there never seems any other sort of quite so convenient for storing all the things which these places hold. Of course they must be cleared out and this time is undoubtedly the best part of the year to straighten them because it is a little early for the general house cleaning which most of us undertake in the spring and the work can be done less likely.

Closets and the bureau drawers as well which are painted to harmonize with the decorations of the room are very bright and attractive and may be done quickly and with a minimum of work by using one of the quick drying paints now on the market. Painted boxes to hold hats and gloves are lovely to behold and save the usual very utility and make-up boxes are also nice for the dresser draws and will help to keep them clean and neat.

The many papers and cast off gloves and purses which find their way into the corner should of course be disposed of and the old shoes and hats as well. The clothes and other articles which are preserved ought to be cleaned and renovated during this time so that they will not seem out of place in their bright homes.

DO YOU KNOW THAT.

1 A velvet dress may be freshened by hanging the garment in a room filled with steam for fifteen minutes or half an hour and then drying it over a radiator?

2 To prevent serge from becoming shiny when pressing place a damp cloth over the right side and sponge gently while ironing?

3 When washing windows use crumpled newspapers to polish them to give them a lovely gloss?

4 Wax may be removed from cloth by placing a blotter under the spot and scraping gently with a silver knife blade pushing another blotter over the spot and pressing with a hot iron.

5 A little vinegar added to the rinsing water when washing silk stockings makes them appear new and gives them longer life?

The Stone Is Rolled Away

When the women came with their spices to anoint the body of Jesus the thought that disturbed their minds was how they might roll back the stone that closed the entrance to the rock-tomb. It was an exceeding great stone, beyond their combined physical power to move and they might have turned back hopelessly had they known that it was sealed and guarded by Roman soldiers (Matt. 27: 66). As they wended their way sorrowfully toward the burial place, it was yet dark (John 20: 1) but the first rays of the rising sun were tinging the Eastern sky when they reached the sepulchre and to their amazement they found that the stone was rolled away. Venturing into the darkened interior of the cave they were struck with den fear to behold sitting there a "young man" or angel (Matt. 28: 2) arrayed in white. Matthew says that the heavenly visitor had made the keepers to shake and become as dead men when he rolled back the stone and sat upon it. "Fear not ye" said the angel to the women "for I know that ye seek Jesus which was crucified. He is not here; for He is risen as He said. Come see the place where the Lord lay." Receiving his command to carry the news to Christ's disciples "and Peter" they went out quickly so filled with mingled "fear and great joy" that they said not a word to any one whom they met on their way back to the city. The wonder of the empty sepulchre held them spell-bound. Like the shepherds on the plains of Bethlehem, who saw the angel of the Lord and heard him say, "Fear not for behold I bring you good tidings of great joy" they too had seen God's angel and heard from his lips such a message as mortal ears had never listened to—their crucified Lord had burst the bands of death and was risen! We know that one of them Mary Magdalene though thus assured lingered behind overwheeled by the thought that someone had come and stolen away the body of her Lord and it was to her out of whom He had once said seven decades that Jesus first revealed himself (John 20:16).

One single word in Greek—egertai—recorded by each of the synoptists tells the wondrous story—"He is risen!" It has been well called "the most meaningful word ever written" a word in which is condensed the proof of Christ the triumph of Christ, Christ's victory over death and sin the confidence of all Christians and humanity's assurance of immortality. The apostle Paul in his great resurrection chapter (1 Cor. 15) makes the Resurrection of Jesus Christ the fundamental fact of the Christian faith.

It is a fact because of the incontrovertible testimony given by those who saw Him alive after His death and in-nerment. He was seen, Paul tells us by Cephas (Peter) by 500 brethren at once, most of whom were still living when Paul wrote, by James the Lord's brother and by Paul himself "as one born out of due time" The Gospels also tell us of His appearance to Mary Magdalene; to the woman returning from the tomb (Matt. 28: 9-10); to two disciples at Emmaus (Luke 24: 13-35); to the apostles (except Thomas) on the evening of the same day (John 20: 19); to the apostles again after eight days, Thomas being present (John 20: 24-29); to the seven by the Lake of Tiberias (John 21: 1-23); to His disciples before His Ascension (Luke 24: 36-53); to Paul on the way to Damascus (Acts 9: 5); to Paul in the Temple at Jerusalem (Acts 22: 17-19); to Stephen the first martyr (Acts 7: 56); and to John in the Isle of Patmos (Rev. 1: 10-18). But even a stronger and more convincing evidence for the truth of the Resurrection is the existence of the Christian church before ever the Gospels were written "in that extraordinary spiritual vitality which confronts us in the New Testament" (Dr. James Delaney) This historical fact of the Resurrection of our Lord is a rock-of-faith that can never be moved, but those who have experienced the thrill of the new life which Jesus gives require no other evidence "If Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain" said Paul "and your faith is also vain; year, and we are found false witnesses of God" (1 Cor. 15: 14, 15).

The Resurrection is not only historically true but it is a fundamental fact, vital to Christianity, because if Christ is not raised there is no immortality and "we have no hope beyond the grave," then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ are perished" (1 Cor. 15: 18) "But now" adds the apostle "with a shout of triumph 'Christ is risen from the dead and became the first fruits of them that sleep'" (1 Cor. 15: 20) Writing to the Thessalonian converts he bids them not to sorrow for their brethren who had passed away, as if they had no hope "for if we believe that Jesus died and rose again even so them also, which sleep in Jesus will God bring with Him" (1 Thess. 4: 13, 14)

"If the Spirit of Him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you, He that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies by His Spirit that dwelleth in you" (Rom. 8: 11) Christ's Resurrection is a pledge of our own. He Himself in the Resurrection and the Life (John 11: 25) Because He lives we shall live also (John 14: 19).

Some find the risen Christ in one way and some in another, but the One discovered is evermore the same.

The Easter lesson for all who have put their trust in Jesus as a personal Saviour will be found in Col. 3: 1. If there is recognition of Christ's power in the life, there must be a new and higher purpose in living, and a change of attitude to ward the things of this world. So far as his old sinful self is concerned the Christian is dead and the new life of faith which he lives is a life hid with Christ in God. For a believer to live in sin from which Christ has delivered him, is to contradict the Gospel and to grieve the Holy Spirit of God, whereby he was sealed unto the day of redemption. But to turn from sin in the strength which the Spirit gives is to know the blessedness of His salvation.

Stuttering may be a handicap but it does not necessarily indicate lack of mental ability tests performed on 7-13 school children by Dr. Elizabeth D. McDowell at Columbia University disclosed.

Tracing cloth used by draftsmen in blueprinting drawings may become popular as a curtain material as a result of an accidental discovery that the fabric admits the healthful ultra-violet rays of the sun usually excluded by paper and other kinds of cloth.

A DREAD DISEASE

That dread disease cerebro spinal Meningitis has reared its ugly head once more in the province. Six cases have been reported in one town, all the patients being children. Up-to-date four have died.

Children are most susceptible to this disease. The disease is spread from one person to another by the discharge from the nose and throat of a person already affected. Overcrowding in the home and close contact in crowded theatres and concert rooms greatly favour the spread of it.

If a child has a fever and vomiting with pain in the neck or stiffness of the neck it should be isolated as a suspected case. There should be no delay in calling a doctor for prompt treatment is essential. Treatment is effective only if administered early and becomes less effective with each day's delay.

If the physician diagnoses Cerebro Spinal Meningitis, the patient must be nursed in isolation, that is in a room by himself, with one member of the household responsible for his care. No other member should be allowed in the sick room. All nasal and throat discharges should be caught on old rags, placed in a paper bag and burned. Dishes and cutlery are kept separate and linen is disinfected before being taken from the room. Storage of food should be burned. The house nurse when caring for the patient should wear a washable overall which should be removed before leaving the room. Also before she leaves the room she must wash her hands with soap and water and soak in disinfectant (Lysol) one teaspoonful to one pint of water. Prevention is better than cure. Persons suffering from colds should stay at home. Mouth and nose should be covered with a handkerchief when coughing and sneezing. Hands should be washed frequently. Pamphlets on all communicable diseases can be had from the Red Cross Society, 407 Civic Block Edmonton, Alta.

BORN—To Mr and Mrs L. Alexander at the Wainwright municipal hospital on March 30th, a son.

News goes forth that "The Confederation" of the C.N.R. which was found to be such a convenient tool, is to be back on the run next month. The first train leaves Toronto as so to be here on May 19th, travelling via Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Wainwright, etc to the coast.

As a sign of real efficiency Mr. L. Cuthbertson sure has the joke on the T.R. postal service. A letter properly addressed and stamped was sent to him from Peoria, Ill. last August, and after drifting as far as Wainwright, Alaska and several other places it arrived here on Monday!

The date has now been set for the 1929 concert being put on by the United church choir. It will take place on April 12th and all are asked to save the date. The programme will appear later.

The new Wainwright Underwriters' office is now opened on Main Street in the old Kling-Del premises. This company will handle Faraway Pete, Williams Pete, and all other marketable stocks. Their big sign is an attractive one too!

Mr Len Watkins, formerly of Wainwright was here from Edmonton for a day or two over the week end.

Mrs E. Melvin arrived last week from St Paul and Metis to spend a holiday with her son Milo and family.

Mr J. Braegirdle was in town on Monday from Pon. Alta. to take in the Vet's big doings at the theatre.

Don't forget to come to the United church on Friday, April 12th at eight p.m. sharp, when the Choir are giving their "Night in Ireland" concert. This will consist of solos, duets, choruses, readings and instrumental selections. Save the date. Tickets 50c each.

Miss E. Gibson, who recently arrived from Scotland is now engaged on the staff of the municipal hospital.

Mr Paul Graham is this week moving his family into the Knowles' house recently vacated by Mr and Mrs Okey on Ninth avenue west.

Love's Spring weather! Just the time to Spring Clean! See Joe Welch at the Atlas yard for your needs

Mrs W. Fish arrived from her home at Runsey, Alta. to spend a few weeks with her son Frank and his family.

A colored lady walked into an insurance office and asked if they wrote fire insurance. Upon being told they did she asked for a policy on her husband. The clerk replied "What you want is life insurance" as he reached for an application form. "I don't want life insurance on my husband, I want fire insurance. He has been fired four times in three weeks!" said the lady. We have no policy to fit this lady's case but we can insure your property so that your loss will be small in case of fire. Joe Welch, phone 57.

After visiting friends in the city Mr W. Fox returned home last week end.

On Friday evening next, Mrs Geo. Hudson is billed to sing at Viking in the interests of the W.C.T.U. there.

Monday last saw the Calgary Power Co. take over the light, water and power utilities of the Town of Camrose under a ten-year franchise.

Mrs L. Ross and daughter arrived on Sunday night to join her husband who is engaged as operator at the C. N.R. repeater station here.

THE FLOUR MILL

is not "any old mill!" It is "our Mill"; "your Mill"; because it is "A Profit-Sharing Mill!"

I could not or would not ask you mothers to dress your little ones in Old Flour Sacks. That would be taking the cream and sugar and leaving you the sour milk and no money to buy clothes!

Buy your Flour at the Wainwright Mill and save money to buy yourself and little Mary Silk Dress es. Our Flour Sacks make dandy dish towels
